DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This frame farmhouse is situated among hemlocks in a hilly area off Rt. 495 approximately 3/4 mile south of Glendale Road. The house faces west. It is a two-story, three-bay by two-bay structure with a cross gable roof.

A wooden porch, supported by turned and knobbed wood posts with jigsaw trim, extends the length of the facade. A single story shed addition runs across the rear, east, elevation.

Due to the fact that the house rests on an embankment, the cellar can be entered at ground level below the shed addition. The house can be entered from the central facade entrance as well as an entrance at the south elevation of the shed addition.

The house has an exterior brick chimney at the back, north, elevation. 1/1 sash windows light the house. Single one-pane windows are located in the gable ends. The windows have drip cap molding window heads.

The house rests on what appears to be a poured concrete or concrete-covered foundation.

The house is covered with asphalt shingles with cornerboards. Octagonal-shaped wooden shingles appear in the gable ends. The roof is covered with asphalt shingles.
